DEDICATION

In 1961, Herndon was fortunate to have added to it's faculty, Ferne Ostheim, the English department's smiling school pearl. Since she began in the school on Locust Street, teaching 7th graders, Ferne has made consistant contributions to school life, dedicating herself to the wel-fare and betterment of the many students who have passed through her doors. She has had a tremendous impact on the growth of all her students and continues to exert a positive influence on everyone she teaches. She demonstrates her concern and commitment to her stu-dents by consistantly keeping contact by phone to parents. This provides a vital link of communication between school and home. Understanding, compassionate, con-cerned, are words that aptly describe Ferne Ostheim, for she is fondly looked upon by upperclassmen and gradu-ates who remember being nurtured by her when they were frightened underclassmen. It is with a great deal of love that we dedicate this volume to her and say thank you for her many years of love and concern.

Metamorphosis mor-fe-ses
 n. 1 a: change of physical form, structure, or substance esp. by supernatural means b: a striking alteration in appearance, character, or circumstances

When we began first grade, we didn't think of what it would be like to make new friends, find our identities, and receive an education. We missed Mommy and Daddy, Spot, our swing set in the backyard. The twelve years to graduation seemed an eternity. Then suddenly eight years later — the walls started closing in.

It seemed that we had just gotten used to everything when our freshman year forced us to get used to new faces and new teachers all over again. We reshaped our identities and experienced the traumas that every teenager encounters at the tender age of fourteen.

Then came the sophomore year. We settled into our second year and began to prep ourselves for '83. We were no longer a single digit grade, but a double one. Acceptance at last! But as one sophomore commented, "After ninth grade, its time to stop goofing around and settle into the books!"

Our junior year arrived bringing drivers licenses! Jobs! It also brought hard work and pressures: S.A.T.'s, choosing a college, keeping those grades up.

Finally, our last year. We work harder and we play harder. We eagerly await college admissions, final S.A.T. scores, class ranks. There is a new sense of responsibility: 18 and an adult but still an adolescent ... college soon ... more freedom ... senior slump ... breaking away and saying goodbye to begin the cycle once more.

We have come at last, not to the end of the road, but to where the two meet. The road we've been on merges with those others — which we will choose as we walk off that stage on graduation night.

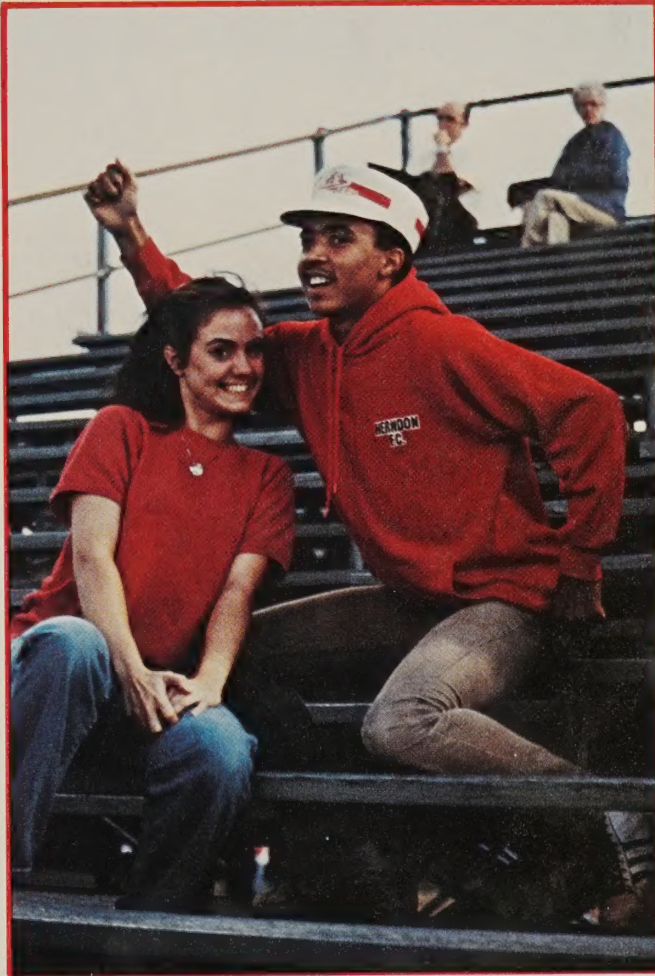

Anne Hilty gives her Dad a hug after receiving the pink rose symbolizing the title of Maid of Honor.

Father and soon to be graduate of the class of 1998.

Just clowning around, Leslie Peacock. Shirley Anderson and Ralleggh Neal have that Hornet spirit!

Smiling faces and high spirits, helped lead the Hornets on to victory Homecoming day. Helpers, Michele Minton and Jenny Machado.

GET PEPPED UP!

Punk rock hit Herndon, fer sher, fer sher. Carla Blankenship was one of the first victims.

A WEEK OF FUN FOR EVERYONE!!!

We were having some fun on Spirit Week, yes indeedie! What with Racy Rainbows, Luscious legs, G.I. Joes, and punk rockers were really just some of our crazy students at it again! (Yes, love those crazy Hornets!) Even Friday's rain could not stop those crazy foxes from their traditional Powder Puff football game with the Seniors & freshmen against the Juniors & Sophomores. Friday was also the day of the momentous, legendary Pep Rally, and Senior Ambition Day. No, none of the Seniors had aspirations of going into sanitation engineering or nuclear-waste sifting. No! We had a school full of future soldiers, bananas, French maids, guerillas, nerds, and pumpkin-heads!!

Of course, many-a-bun was frozen during the Saturday Homecoming festivities. The Parade, Fair, and Game were equally as enjoyable, though! The Hornets are a brave and wild bunch and neither rain nor snow nor sleet nor hail will stop those Hornets from their appointed rounds!! We beat Falls Church (of course, we're great.)_____ (score). The Half-time show was great. The Marching Band withstood the biting and freezing cold. The Drill Team's routine was really fantastic — sorry about the pom-poms, girls! But no Homecoming half-time could be complete without the Homecoming court — Tammy Masters, the '81 H.C. Queen returned to relinquish her title to the 1982 Homecoming Queen, Karen McGovern and her maid of honor, Ann Hilty. The rest of the court included Seniors; Julie Lopp, Angie Grayson, Jenny Ensign and Madeline Gorden, Juniors; Lisa Campbell, Amy Ramsey, and Kim Titus; Sophomores, Allison Pauletti, SO FORTH AND SO FORTH, and SO FORTH AND SO FORTH; and, last but certainly not least, Freshmen Ann Arnold, and SO FORTH AND SO ON. The Comecoming Dance was the finishing touch to the 1982 Herndon Homecoming. Thanks to the talent of Kevin Crawford, the Dance was even more special. Also, special thanks to the Reston Farm Market for the 20-some pumpkins we had for decoration. I think we can all say that this year's Homecoming was successful as well as special — especially for the class of '83!!!!

Spain Comes to Herndon

There were 12 in all; 4 girls, 7 boys, and 1 teacher. The 12 Spanish exchange students from Andujar Spain arrived at Union Station on a long awaited Saturday night and left an early tearful Saturday morning three weeks later.

During their short three weeks here they did more things and visited more places than many Virginians have in their entire life. They went on short excursions to many places and to most of D.C. Their favorite place of all was Georgetown. Whenever they were asked what they wanted to do, the answer was always, "Let's go to Georgetown!"

The Spaniards went to school every morning with their host brothers and sisters. In Spain school begins at 9:00, so the early start took some getting used to. They went to various classes with friends, but usually spent most of the day in Mrs. Farfalias Spanish classes. In her class they taught students Spanish games, songs, and even tried to teach them how to dance the "Sevillana". It is a Spanish dance which most spaniards learn in the course of their life time. One of the girls was a champion from her area.

Our 12 Spanish friends brought with them tradition and culture, and took home American ways and American memories. One of the students said, "once you have a friend from Spain, you have a friend for life."

A special thanks goes to Mrs. Farfaglia, without all her hardwork and love, three wonderful weeks and 12 friends for life could never have happened.

Hasta la vista!

Recruiting Day

Freshmen orientation, a realization. Your first kick that tells you, ouch, am I really here? Finally, after years of elementary and intermediate school, this is what I waited for? As a naive freshmen enters Herndon's halls, a large lump is immediately implanted in his stomach. Alone, he wanders the halls in search of the auditorium. Upon finding it, his next trick will be finding someone relatively familiar, without looking like he is looking for someone. Upon accomplishing that venture, he finds a seat and listens to the speaker with wide bamby eyes. Yes, these are the eyes of a freshman. Wide pools of a young unsuspecting child, which by the end of the four year term will have a noticeable change. Dark rings will have formed from working, no sleep, cramming, and the realization that the 'real world' is just around the corner. The clearness will turn to a hazy, unfocused mess, from trying to read government, physics, etc. up until all hours of the night. And so, freshmen will enter our grand school, clean, fresh, and leave with an education — the education of growing up, and an idea of what will be out there.

The Class of 1986?!?

The freshmen got a good preview of what good ole' H.H.S. life would be like, but this little Hornet wasn't prepared for it.

Good night! It's just like they said it would be!

DRAG NIGHT

Despite the cold weather, rain, and other unfortunate circumstances, the
players had a great time.

Com'in down, com'in down, com'in down down down! RAH!

Sexy as ever the Powder puff cheerleaders!!!
YEAH!

Those Powder Puff Cheerleaders aren't even safe with their own kind. As demonstrated by John Tree and Janelle Ball.

"Ready? Okay! Beat'em! Bust'em! That's our custom!" This and other racy, raunchy and occasionally philosophical cheers were heard issuing from J.L. Griffiths Stadium on the night of Oct. 15. A Varsity football game? Hardly. No, this was just part of the antics of the annual Powder Puff football game. The squad of fifteen cheerleaders showed their spirit, their legs and lots of T. & A. as they cheered on the members of the two teams.

This was the first year that freshmen were teamed with seniors and juniors with sophomores, a rather upsetting situation for some of the upperclassmen. A few seniors even considered boycotting the game, but fortunately did not go through with it.

The night got off to a good start, but pouring rains threatened to put a damper on things as the crowds ran for cover (usually their cars). There were some minor injuries during the course of the night and more than a few colds in the cases of the Powder Puff Cheerleaders. The game, which was refereed by Redskins Chris Corissy and Bob Holly, ended in a 0-0 tie, leaving the girls clamoring for a rematch. On well, just wait till next year!

Exchange Students

My name is Stephan Reucker and I am a foreign exchange student from Germany. When I first came here as an ICYE Exchange student (International Christian Youth Exchange), I didn't know where I was going to live and what the family and new friends would be like. Well, now I can say that I have a very friendly family which made me a part of the family. I have two host sisters and one host brother Rob Hutson, who is a Senior at Herndon High too.

I like Herndon. It is very different from my home school, which has 450 students. Every day there is a different schedule; some times we have 3 periods, but sometimes 7 or 8 a day. I enjoyed Marching Band and some other after school activities that I sometimes attended, like the German Club and AFS Club.

In closing I can say that the students of Herndon High are friendly people whom I will never forget. It has been a very important year for me in which I learned about different cultures and made a lot of new friends. I have enjoyed my year in the U.S.A. and at Herndon very much.

Starting from the beginning ... first the earth cooled ... man appeared ... and about 18 (almost) years ago I started bug-ging everybody. A few years ago I started playing (?) flute and after 1875 days of continuous playing my mother decided to send me away. She picked out a continent (U.S.) and the rest came by itself.

I got to Herndon and I met (Aouch!!) Patty Mitchell and a few more abnormal human (?) beings. Like Peter Fraize notorius (it is latin for you unculturalized people) sax-aphonist. Who refined and completed my English vocabulary. Virginia Smith (no comment) or Gonzalo Ruiz (who pretends to be capable to play oboe ...) Anyway, after the first period of adjustment I got back to my regular level of abnormality and I am surviving pretty well. (I even got first chair in all state orchestra — I don't care if you don't believe it I did it anyway!)

Now I am thinking about my future (that seems to be good) I got two offers of scholarships, one for VCU and the other one for B.V. (Belview mental hospital), and an outstanding letter of exceptance from the abnormal majority.

Unfortunately I won't stay here and they'll take care of me when I get back to Italy.

CIAO!

P.S. WARA

Exchange Students

My name is Masayuki Namiki (Mike). I'm a foreign exchange student from Japan. The exchange student organization I came with is called Y.F.U. (Youth for Understanding) and about 370 students came from Japan to the U.S.A.

Now I'm staying with a nice family in Reston. They make me feel at home, so I'm having a good time with them. When I arrived in Virginia, I could not speak English very well. The only words I could speak were "hello", "yes", "no", "I don't understand", etc. Even though I had studied English for five years the Americans were speaking quickly and using unfamiliar slang. So I started playing music and joined the wrestling team. They helped me make friends and learn English.

The reasons why I came here are learning English and American cultures. Japanese cultures are very different from American. The high school system is different too. In Japan, we don't use school buses and we are not allowed to drive to school (because we have good transportation systems). The school year begins in April and ends in March. We have to go to school on Saturdays too. The students sit in the same class and the teachers come to our class every period. We don't have so many choices of classes as in Herdon. Like, aviation, computer science, typing, etc.

The students are less formal than Japanese and more comfortable for foreign exchange students. I feel this high school has much more freedom. For me, this year is a big vacation. I enjoy staying here, playing music, doing sports, working with friends, and I appreciate people who help me. Through these things I want to learn real American culture and people.

Black History Celebration

February first was the first of the three days we honored black history month with assemblies. Moment's Notice was the first guest bringing music from the jazz age and it's black composers, consisting of Count Basie, Duke Ellington, John Birks, Dizzy Gillespie, and more. The members of the band have been playing together for sometime and play at many community functions. Members; Peter Fraize — Saxophone, Tony Reed — Trumpet, Raleigh Neal — piano, Jerry Stewart — bass, and Todd Mushaw — percussion. The second to appear, Diane Yates Biggs and Kevin Crawford, did "A Personal Interpretation of Black Beauty".

Ms. Yates Biggs is employed as a speech/language pathologist and services Herndon Elementary and Herndon High school. She is the director of the Herndon Youth Dance Company and Jazz Dance Ensemble.

Kevin Crawford, a junior at H.H.S. started dancing at seven and is under the direction of Julia Redick. Kevin has preformed at the Kennedy Center, New Paywrite's Theater, and Arena Stage. Kevin has worked with the American Ballet Theater and spent last summer with the Juliard School. He has also appeared in two major motion pictures, television, and magazine ads.

Total Groove the second to preform displayed their talents Febuary 22. Members: Wesley Towns, Tony Towns, Roger Lansdown, Timmy Forture, John Hunt, Fred Jackson, Dana Harris, Mann Broadous, and Kent Williams.

"Jam Box"

A box is no longer just a box. It's not the cardboard container tucked in the far corner of your closet or the thing your last pair of shoes came in. And as far as hat boxes go — be real! When a friend talks about his box, he means a box.

Jam box, that is. For those who have been living in a hole the past few years, a jam box is technically called an AM/FM Stereo Radio Cassette Recorder. Excuse me — a what? Do you know now why it's just called a box? This latest advancement in technology reaffirms the belief of the bigger the better. The more gadgets on the box, the more awesome it is, despite the fact that you have not the slightest notion what half the buttons do and the other half are completely unnecessary. A box lets you perfect the sound of your favorite music with the mode/beat proof channel that features ambience, stereo, or mono. Tape selections include metal, CrO₂, and normal. For maximum sound effect there are bass, treble, and balance knobs. The cassette section harbors REC mute and all function lights are always important, so LED (Light Emitting Diode) meter must flash in bright red or green. The vital turning knob on any box, though is the one dearly marked in capital letters VOLUME.

"Crank up the box" is a phrase even more popular than, "Oh, for sure!". What is a box good for if not to blast Led Zeppelin at the maximum volume or rap to the beat of the Sugar Hill Gang? Although bringing a box to school is not permissible, many students feel the dire to drown out the music the school radio plays. Sure, station WGAY plays "in" music, but it's hard to boogie to a Lynyrd Skynyrd tune backed up by 101 Strings.

Like all good things, too much has its serious drawbacks. A chronic listener tends to have powerful arm and shoulder muscles, but only on one side. That same arm is often permanently bent from hours on end of carrying a box on the shoulder. The proud owner of a box who never loses his treasure also tends to have a definite hearing problem in his listening ear, often approaching deafness. Oh, whatever happened to the family singing next to the piano?

THE BIG DAY!!?

16 years and 3 days old, the big day has come. Finally, after all the long-boring days of sitting in driver's ed. Class and Behind-the-wheel, after getting your head almost screamed off by your mother as she's tried to pass on to you all the wisdom and experience she's gained in 20-some years of driving:

"I'm okay, Mom, really, I know what I'm doing!"
 "Okay, now there's a stop sign coming up, a FOUR-WAY stop sign, so remember to stop!" "STOP!!! GOSHDAR-

NIT!" (and various mother screams)

"Mom, we've stopped."

"Oh! Okay, Just remember to go WHEN ITS YOUR TURN. GO!!"

"We're going, mom."

"KEEP TO YOUR SIDE OF THE ROAD"

"I am Mother!"

"YOU'RE GOING TOO FAST!"

"I'm going 25 miles per hour, Mom!"

"WATCH OUT FOR THAT TRUCK!!" "WEEEEE!! I'M GOING TO DIE!! WHY DO YOU HAVE TO PUT YOUR MOTHER THROUGH THIS ... DON'T YOU GET ENOUGH PRACTICE AT SCHOOL???"

"Mom, I'm on the other side of the road! Would you like me to stop. I'm not moving this car unless you calm down!"

"Don't talk to your own mother like that! You know, I don't HAVE to do this. When I was young we didn't THINK OF ASKING to drive the car! In fact, we didn't even HAVE A CAR!"

After all of that ... the strong test of nerves, the self-control, the driving mistakes, the reading the VA driving Manual 5 times for your permit ... the day has come ...

DRIVING LICENSE DAY!

Arriving at the DMV ... there must be 500 people waiting in the very line you need to get into. After several hours of waiting it's TIME! Your name is called ... the sweat is rolling down your neck ... your brows are soaked! ("Maybe I'll get a really nice lady ... Mom said they won't give me my license if I can't parrallel park!")

The tester is a fat-old-tough-truck-driving-bowling-for-dollars-type. ("OH !#&*%♣!") But you go ahead with it. You get into the car. Your whole body feels limp, but at the same time, like it's about to burst. Finally, you say, "Will you please fasten your seat belt, I won't drive unless everyone has their seat belt on." (BIG belly button wins points! How clever.)

"Okay, pull out and turn left."

"Pull out and turn left," you say to yourself. "I'm going to pull out and turn left, right? Should I say right? Should I?"

a very good mood, is she? Boy do I feel stupid.

Now you can go out on dates, embarrass-free! No more pay-phone calls in front of your school mate. "Hi ... Mom? Can you come get me?" Now, you're INDEPENDENT!!! You are free! Today, my license; tomorrow THE WORLD.... right? ... right? ... right?

And as your mom is driving you home, and you are planning all the things you can do with your DRIVING LICENSE!!! She says, "Now, just because you've got your license, doesn't mean you can have the car. You'll have to EARN THAT PRIVILEGE!! And another thing. Don't expect to be able to drive at night FOR A LONG TIME." preparation before the hords.

..... THE BIG DAY whoopee

Lines go on for miles as eager students await their turn to eat.

Students often suffer after lunch time. It always seems to be the clinic's busiest time of day.

Eeeyummm. Pete Fraize loves that yummy stuff.

Taco Salad

Brown bag it if you can. Strawberry Shortcake and Incredible Hulk lunch boxes are unpermissable. More often than not a peanut butter and jelly sandwich is more appetizing than a school prepared meal. Students reluctantly drag their feet towards the cafeteria when the bell rings, in dreadful anticipation of the infamous soybean hamburger or the turkey surprise. Except on Wednesdays. On that one divine day of the week seniors rush out of the door to take advantage of their 5-minute early senior priveledge, and you can bet it's not the joy of using their senior identification for iced tea that drives them onward.

Wednesdays have been blessed this year as Taco Salad Days, the one day a week when the salad bar is replaced by chili, sour cream, doritos, and all of the fixings. The line for this dish shows its extreme popularity among the student body. It's probably the only lunch choice that sells out every time. There never seems to be enough to accomodate all the demanding students. This greedy desire for chili has spurned on some regulation problems. When the taco salad was first introduced, long flat platters were what the students piled the food on. And did they ever pile on the grubb. Even the meekest freshman would act like a Varsity football player by disregarding the platter and mount the salad directly on the tray. Mastering the fine art of balancing the milk on the pinky and securing it to the underside of the tray, the students created his own collaboration of lettuce, tomatoes, onions, celery, peppers, doritos, and chili. So skillful were these students at heaping up the taco salad that the school was actually losing money on the dish.

Thus we are now monitored. The students are all too familiar with "The chili is a topping, not the main dish". Small salad bowls are mandatory. The distribution of doritos is regulated. Yet, despite these setbacks, the taco salad has not lost any of its many avid fans. Mexico may be South of the Border, but Taco Salad Wednesday is a celebrated tradition at H.H.S.

H.H.S. students felt it proper this year to dress for dinner.

Some other students felt it necessary to celebrate during lunch time.

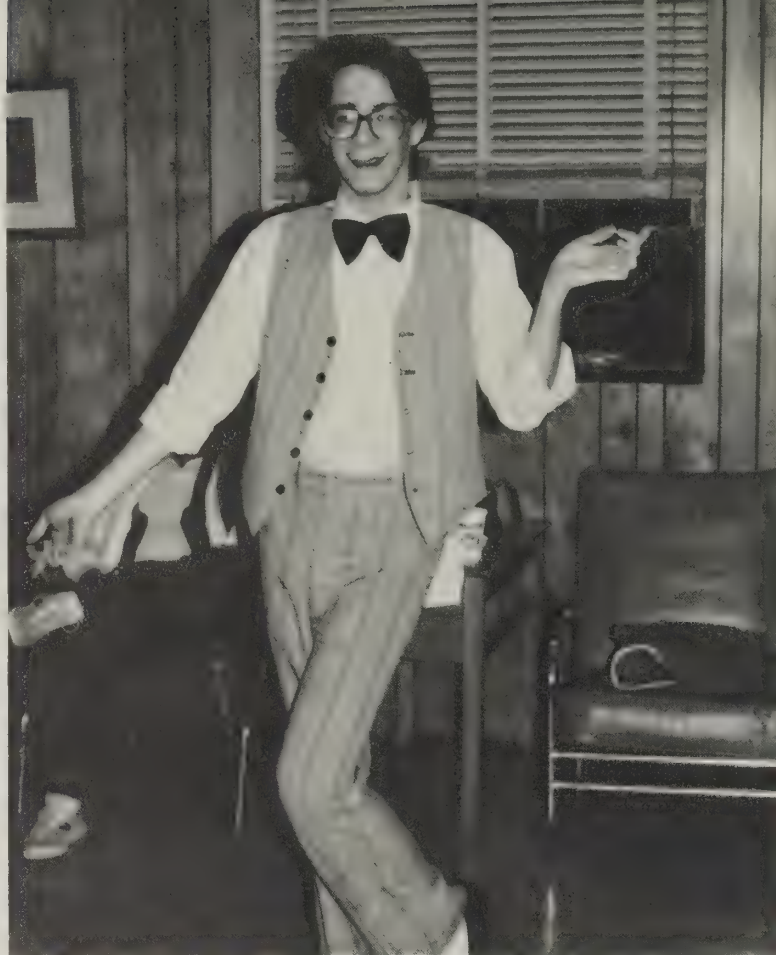

This past November 19th, 19th, and 20th the Herndon High School department turned out yet another brilliant production. This time the show was Audelia Christie's The M. Use Trap. The scenery looked great with assistance provided by Kim. The cast was an excellent group of talented students that was the reason for your enjoyment.

The plot deals with a young couple who get a guest house from an English man, who has been played beautifully by Leshe. The man and his wife, Mrs. Parajicini, and her husband, Leshe, are caught in the house when the guests arrive. First, a British architect named Christopher West, portrayed with finesse by Beth Peacock, and Kurt Hagley, arrives. They are followed by Mrs. Peacock, Beth Peacock, and Kurt Hagley. The guests are then the three from the show, Mr. Parajicini, Mr. Parajicini, and Mrs. Parajicini. The guests are then the three from the show, Mr. Parajicini, Mr. Parajicini, and Mrs. Parajicini.

But if from the outside with the people in the guest house are checked when they are with them in the house. The guests are then the three from the show, Mr. Parajicini, Mr. Parajicini, and Mrs. Parajicini. The guests are then the three from the show, Mr. Parajicini, Mr. Parajicini, and Mrs. Parajicini.

Come Dine With Us.

If you're one of the people who complain about school lunches, this fact may surprise you . . . our cafeteria staff won a Food Service Award for Fairfax County Schools in 1982. Our lunches were judged twice last year and found to be the most outstanding meals prepared throughout the school system. In fact, the staff cooks 4000 meals a day for the students at Herndon High. In addition to that, they serve 8 other schools in the county as well as cooking meals for Head Start programs and senior citizens homes.

This year a new addition has appeared on the cafeteria scene; taco salads!! On top of this specialty are student planned meals which are first tested by the SAC and served once a month. So the next time you feel the urge to make a quick run to McDonalds, remember . . . your own prize winning cafeteria is just down the hall.

M. Dolesh and M. Turner operating the vegetable cutter. Mrs. Turner has been a dedicated staff member for the last 20 years.

"I think I'm going to die."

Have you ever come to school feeling like you are dying from some dreaded disease, like uh... typhoid fever? Your throat is on fire, your head is ready to explode, and your stomach is behind you on the bus. That "I think I am gonna die" syndrome can make or break you. Especially when the girl behind you sneezes all over you, infesting you with germs that you certainly don't need. Unfortunately, you are too weak to take a swing at her. Later on you'll make a point to steal her nasal spray. Of course, in your next class you have an oral quiz in which you hoarsely squeak an answer when your teacher called on you. By the end of the day, you give in to your illness and spend the rest of the day in the clinic.

Excuses

1. Death in the family — my goldfish died.
2. Serious illness — stubbed my toe getting out of bed.
3. Headache — too much late night T.V.
4. Stomach pains — nerves from not being ready for a test.
5. Vacation — going shopping for new clothes.
6. General feeling of ill health — couldn't think up a good excuse.

Hanging Out

When the Herndon-Reston area is lacking in excitement and you are out cruising on a Friday night, then you must hit the "in" places in order to find people. If you are a junior or senior, then either you are driving or someone else is so you are able to check out a lot of places. The first stop is the bowling alley. Inside no one bowls, but they do hit the video room. The alley is a big spot for socializing, drinking, and fighting. If you get a little bored with that, you check out your local 7-11's. There are usually partiers getting their beer or munchies and you can find out what is going on around town. Occasionally there are groups up at Friendlies willing to sit around and chat. An old hangout was Sambo's after a football game, but that scene faded a couple of years ago. A big place not too far from town is Georgetown. Invariably, you see someone you know when you are in a bar like Winston's or the Bayou. Now the freshmen and sophomores don't hang out at all those places. Freshman can be found at the roller-rink skating their hearts away to impress others. The sophomores are up at the alley, but aren't as mobile as upperclassmen so they are, as freshmen are, usually confined to the one place.

Dissection Week

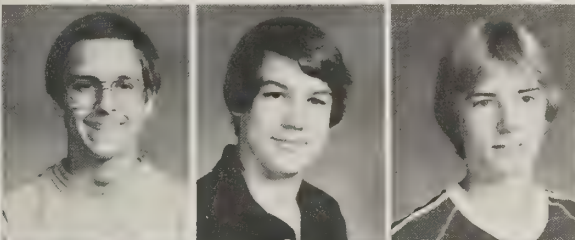

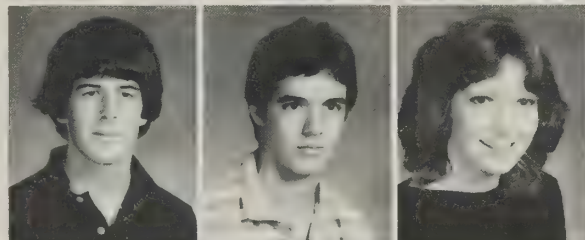

Nationally we have fire prevention week, be kind to animals week, and many others. Here at Hern- don, we also have dissection week. This is the week that a stench hangs in the halls outside of biology classes, and we find pieces of fetus pigs in the halls, our lockers, and various other places. This is also the slowest week in the cafeteria, as many biology stu- dents find it very difficult to stomach any sort of food. For many, this is a nice week for a vacation.

Freshmen

The ninth graders were invited to an orientation program by the Student Government Association before school began. Members of the class toured the buildings and familiarized themselves with the classrooms. Many of them were much surprised by the size of the school and the diversity of the halls. It took them a while to discover that there was no "third floor" and no "third floor" in existence.

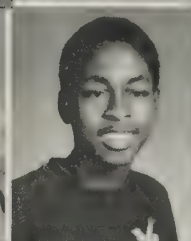

There was rapidly mastered the art of manipulating a calculator and completing the seemingly endless amounts of homework. The variety of clubs was new to many of the freshmen. There was no more of going straight home and watching the television. They are working hard and giving one's best effort to the members of the class. The freshmen were not involved, for they were all doing their individual interests.

In the Freshman Class Committee, they discussed future plans and their past progress. The meetings were not always productive, but they were a good way to get together and develop a sense of organization.

Junior Class Council

The Junior Class began gathering ideas and active council members last Spring. During the Summer months they began fund-raising for Prom (their main goal) by holding car washes at gas stations and at school for the faculty. This wash proved to be the most interesting, because the Junior Class members cleaned the cars inside and out and found some teachers to be real SLOBS. Other fund-raisers were: popcorn sales at Homecoming, Pen Watches, and selling refreshments at S.G.A. sponsored dances.

The best accomplishment of the Class of '84 was receiving the Mayor's Trophy for their Homecoming Float of a football player to the theme of "Step into the Future."

The Junior Class regrets not being able to have an Admission-Free Prom this Spring, due to lack of funds from their main drive, the magazine sale, and to difficulty with the I.C.C.

The officers and Council members would like to thank Mr. Maher for his help and support, as their sponsor.

National Honor Society

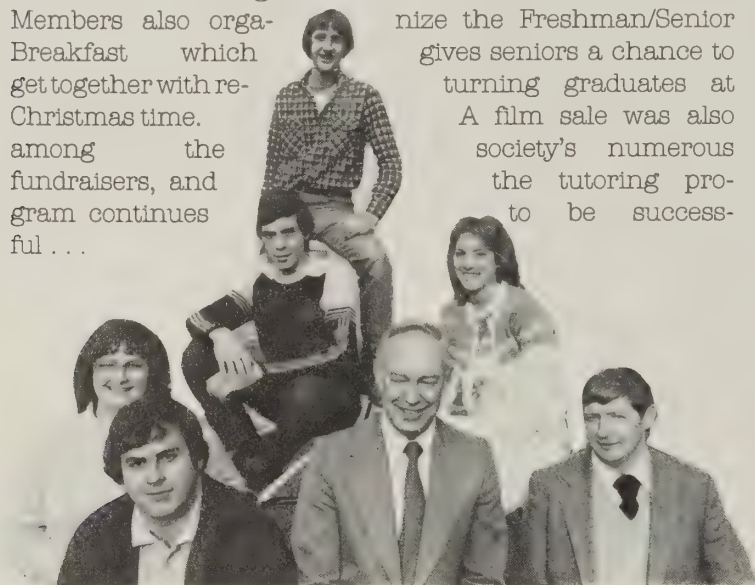

Eric Olson and Nils Okeson fundraise for the N.S.H.S.

The National Senior Honor Society is made up of about sixty juniors and seniors who have maintained a 3.5 or above grade point average.

The Honor society is one of the most active clubs in the school. Their fundraisers include selling pretzels after school, and this year they have started a new tradition; the annual Homecoming Bazaar.

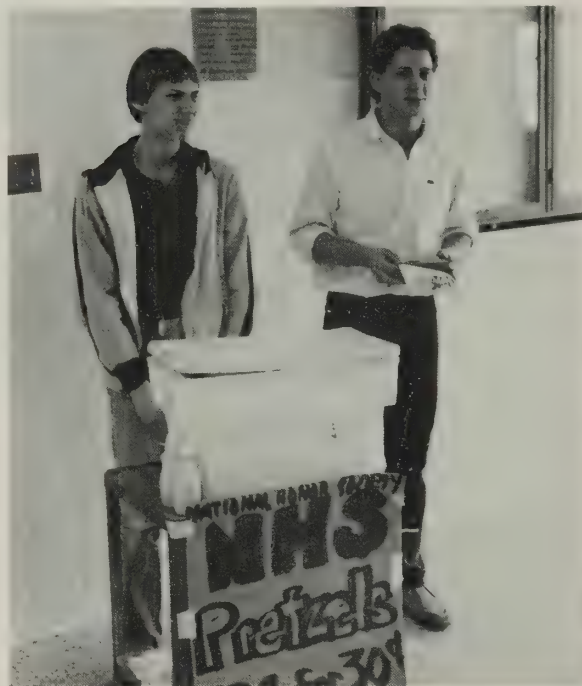

Members also organize the Freshman/Senior Breakfast which gives seniors a chance to get together with re- turning graduates at Christmas time. A film sale was also among the society's numerous fundraisers, and the tutoring program continues to be successful...

French Club

The French Club tries to promote understanding of and appreciation for the culture of the French speaking world. Anyone can join the club and there is no importance on whether or not the person is familiar to the French language. The members met 1-2 times a month after school in room 200, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Crouch. This year, they saw foreign movies, conducted a service project for the French department and had fundraisers.

La Societé Honoraire de Francais

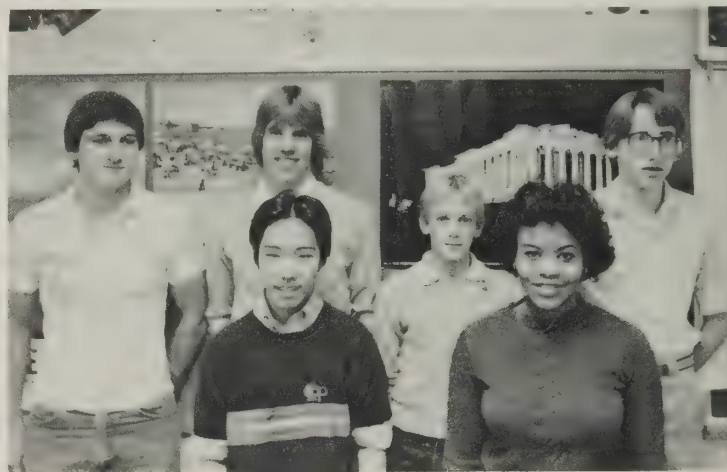

The Herndon High chapter of the Societe Honoraire de Francais (#698) was granted its charter in July, 1970. The charter members were enducted in February, 1971 under the sponsorship of Mrs. Greenfield. It was established to reward high scholastic achievement in French and to create enthusiasm for and understanding of French culture and civilization. It also serves to promote and perpetuate Franco-American friendship.

The members met once a month after school in room 235, and were sponsored by Mrs. C. Hueston. This year they had many activities throughout the year. In September they conducted a soccer game with the E.S.L. students. In November they attended the opera, "Carmen", at the Kennedy center. Other activities they were involved in consisted of visiting a French restaurant, attending a play at George Washington University, the annual Langley Forensics Competition, and the National French Contest.

Latin Club

One of the many popular clubs in the school is the Latin Club. Mrs. Sleeper, the sponsor, planned various activities for the club members in order to familiarize them with the culture. This year one of the main events was the trip to Roanoke. About 22,000 students from all over the nation gathered in order to take part in the program. One of the many opportunities of tasting Greek and Roman goodies was available at the Saturnalia party. This summer, students from the States of Union shall participate in a program which takes place at the University of Rochester. Students shall take part in anything from oritory to athletic programs.

The National Latin Honor Society is an organization which consists of students who excel in the Latin language. In order to be inducted to the society, a student is required to have achieved high academic standards in their Latin classes. The club's purpose is to enrich the member's knowledge of the culture and the language of Latin. Some major activities that occurred this year was the tutoring service, a big authentic Roman meal, and a trip to the Metropolitan Museum in New York.

The A.F.S. brings together a wide variety of people from a wide variety of backgrounds for the purpose of studying, learning, and just having fun. This club brings the world one step closer together.

This years club was involved in many activities, the highlight being an exchange trip to Greenwich, Conn. A group of our students went to Connecticut early in the year, and in December we hosted several of their students.

FFA

FFA, like FBLA and FHA, prepare students for the future in a career of their choice. This club focuses on preparing students who have an interest in agriculture, farming, flowers, or such, for a career in that related field. In this club they taught how to treat plants and such by actually working with them. This club is both a learning experience and a lot of fun.

It's Akademik

Each fall, three of Herndon's best students appear on the It's Academic T.V. quiz show. They compete against two other teams from area high schools.

The team competed against St. Anselm's and Lake Braddock's highschools. Herndon came in third with 280 points, a very respectable score for a third place team.

Team members attributed the loss to lack of practice and low reaction time. They were not quick enough hitting the buzzer, but answered most of the questions they had correctly.

Using this year's experience, the team plans to begin practice again in March with more people and several buzzers. Hopefully next year's team will be attuned to the celebrity spotlight and the unease which accompanies it.

Safety Council

With the help of sponsor Mr. Stallings, the Safety Council returned to Herndon this year. The function of this club is to promote safety both in and out of the school. This year they promoted SADD and MADD. At their meetings they discussed and set up ways to spread the word of safety. Many displays, signs, and slogans were seen throughout the school during the year.

Since accidents on school property were low during the year, the school body apparently needed the advice and warnings of the Safety Council.

Science Club

Science Club: Eric, Chris Baker, Sara Yovick, Shannon Stidman, Miss Hopper, Mike Mason, Mike Neluey, Eric Fugate, Folf Olson, Claudia Testa, David Gyer — Pres., Craig Maron.

Chess Club

This year the Chess Club became more active than usual. Each week members participated in a tournament, playing a game each. The club met on Tuesdays for casual play.

Members were ranked amongst themselves and in some cases ranked nationally. They became conversant in openings such as the Evans Gambit and Roy Lopez, and defenses like the Sicilian and French.

The club bought new chess sets and went to a tournament in New Jersey. More than most organizations, the Chess Club is dedicated to competing in something which is also enjoyable and intellect-provoking.

Set into a trance Tom Bridge may never come out!

The Debate and Forensics Club was composed of students interested in the art of public speaking. The club met weekly during the year. At meetings, members practiced or researched. Practice was needed to accustom students to public speaking and the environment they would encounter in competition.

Each month the club went to a tournament at a local high school. Each student participated in one or more of the categories, which included Prose and Poetry reading, Impromptu and Extemporaneous speaking, National Oratory, and Debate. The team won a few awards and gained a great deal of experience.

Two major events in which the team was involved in occurred late in the year. They were the model Congress, in which students formulated a bill and attempted to have it passed by other students, and a debate at a George Mason University. The topic question was "should the United States significantly curtail its arms sales to foreign nations?"

The club had an enjoyable year and gained much needed experience. Most members are returning next year and the club should be more competitive as time passes.

The County SAC has been comparatively efficient in addressing the issues. Committees have been formed to investigate and make recommendations on smoking, the G/T program, technology/computers in school, and the SAC bylaws. The students' views on these issues will be brought to the attention of the School Board by Fairfax County's Student School Board Representative Chris Sabec.

The most controversial issue before the Council this year is the proposed GT program to be implemented next year in every school in the areas of English, Social Studies, Math and Science. Heated discussions on the subject dominated both the Area III and County meetings. Although the program was approved, the SAC is questioning the need for the program and its feasibility. The group will examine various proposed programs and make recommendations to the school board and the Board.

Thespians

Herndon's Drama Club has been very active this school year. Replacing the school auditorium's sound and lighting system is the club's major goal. This will take several years work, and the Drama people are frantically selling candy to reach the $10,000 goal as soon as possible.

The Thespians are the Honor Drama members. A minimum of 10 points is necessary for membership, which represents approximately 100 hours of theatre work. It's not as easy as it sounds!! At 30 points Thespians letter — yes, drama jocks do exist. These are the people who brought you The Mouse Trap, A Company of Wayward Saints, as well as the spring musical. The Thespians are known for their exciting meetings, cast parties, and plays. Their ultimate dream is to get enough people to go on a group trip to New York — yet another impossible goal.

Varsity Football

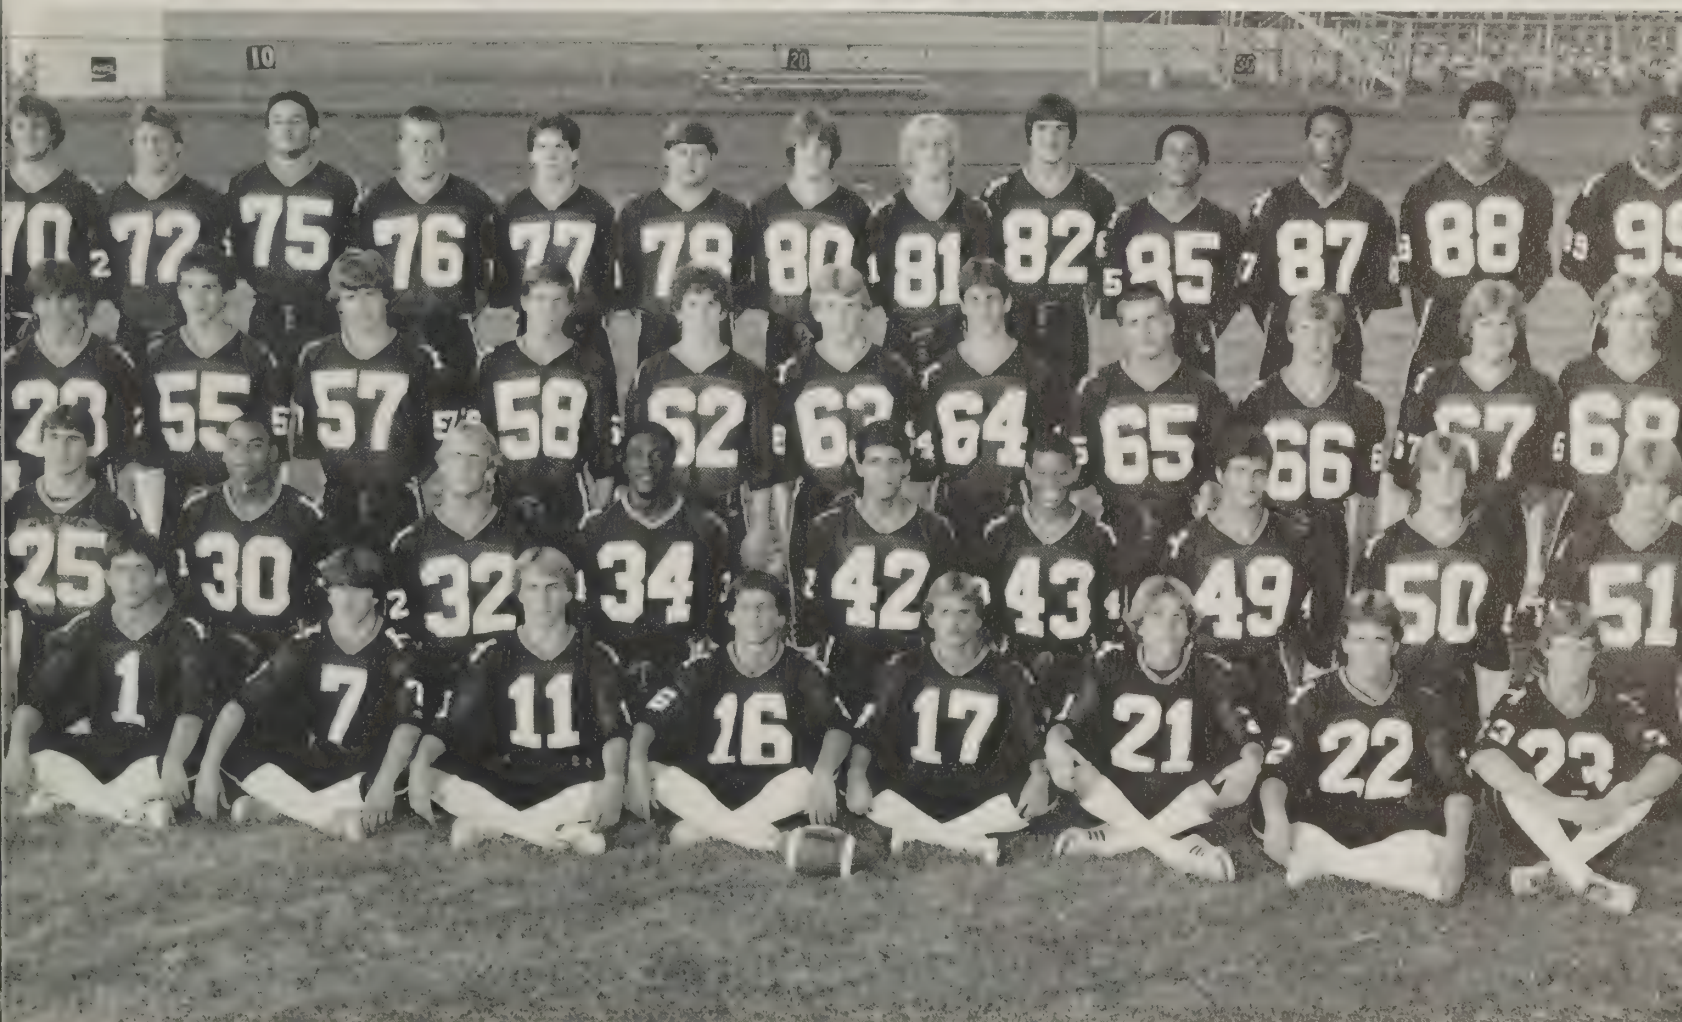

The Varsity Football team had another successful winning season, their fourth in a row. They had a 7-3 season. The high point of the season was their game against Chantilly. This previously undefeated football team, was leading by a large margin at the end of the first half, but the Herndon took the lead and defeated Chantilly in the end. It was a well fought victory for Herndon.

Our successful season was attributed to a lot of things. They put a lot of hard work into the team, with all their practices, then films in the past games to see what they were doing right and what they did wrong in order to change it. Also the people made a difference. Coach Nell deserves a lot of credit and thanks, as do team members Chriss Chiun who was named All Districts, All Regional, and was on the second team All Metro, Chris Forrest who was also All District, All Regional, and on the first team All Metro, and Chris Impellitteri who was also All Districts, and on the second team All Regional. Although only these few were named, all the team members deserve credit because we couldn't have done it without them.

Gatorade isn't that thirst quenching.

J.V. Football

What kind of season was it? Football, plain and simple. And what a successful season the J.V. Football squad had too. Every torturing minute of the daily practices paid off in each game. The team members worked together to improve their status and turn around a several year streak of mediocre playing. The J.V. team finished its victorious season with a record of six wins and three loses.

Although each game was exciting and challenging, Coach Mack confidently declared the game against Marshall as the high point of the season. The Marshall J.V. team had previously been undefeated and unscored upon. The determined Hornets, of course, were prepared for this major battle and defeated Marshall.

Like any team, its success depends on the quality of its individuals. The Hornets were lucky to have so many talented players. The efforts of Derek Fitzgerald, performing an outstanding job in both defense and offense, and Jeff Rutherford, an all purpose player filling in whenever and wherever he was needed, contributed to the many victories.

The Freshman Football team had an enjoyable and very successful season this year. They ended their season with a 6-1-1 record.

Three of the most memorable games included the Marshall game in which two of our punts were blocked. However, despite this, the team was victorious. The Yorktown game saw the success of a play that had never worked in practice. And of course, there was the South Lakes forfeit.

The team was led by Andy Sangboosy's natural talent and serious approach to the game. Vernith Brooks great learning ability, combined with Barry Johnson's determination to kick left footed, and the overall attitude of the team, resulted in a great season.

Coach Hand feels that this year's Freshman team has some excellent prospects for next year's Varsity and J.V. team.

"Die before that ball goes into the goal!"

They may have been young, but they were definitely not inexperienced. By the end of the season, this year's Varsity Field Hockey team had faced more challenges than ever before.

It was difficult to follow last year's victorious season, especially after graduating eleven seniors. Yet the five returning players combined with eleven rising J.V. players proved to be a most determined team. Undaunted by their youthfulness, the players faced the competition eagerly as they entered into the First Jefferson Invitational tournament. Herndon played strongly and proudly came in third place. The final game was concluded by one ten minute overtime and two sets of strokes. This pattern was to be repeated several more times throughout the season.

Despite many loses, the Hornets never lost their enthusiasm and drive. Coach LeDane always gave the players great amounts of encouragement and maintained a high level of confidence in the team. It was this kind of spirit and camaraderie that drew the girls together practice after practice, game after game. H.H.S. field hockey attracted a group of independent individuals and graduated a cohesive unit. A unit that practiced together, played together, triumphed together.

The "Baby Bees"

The Varsity Team punks-out for their "other" picture

The "Baby Bees", alias the J.V. Field Hockey Team, was named by the varsity Team because of the number of underclassmen on the team. Although given this title, according to Coach Hargrave, the team did not lack skill or spirit. They ended the season with a 4-5-1 record. Kim Ashwell received "Most Valuable Player" award and Beth Horwalt received the "Most Spirited" award.

The girls tennis team finished their tough season with an overall record of 8-3 losing to Langley in regular season play and in the finals of the District Tournament. The third loss came in the first round of regionals. The team this year consisted of four returning players, and three newcomers. Returning were: Tanja Shipman, a senior playing the number one position, Suzy Groah, a junior playing position three, Colleen Evans, a senior playing the fifth spot, and Chris Benitez, also a senior standing by to fill in at the sixth spot when necessary. Newcomers to the team were; freshmen Gillian Thomas, playing at number two, Cheryl Gilley, a junior at fourth spot, and a senior Suzanne Moe, at number six. Doubles teams were made up of; Evans-Shipman at number one, Thomas-Gilley at number two, and Moe-Groah in the third spot.

Gillian Thomas earned the honor of being named Player of the Week once during the season, by the Fairfax Journal. Awards at the end of the season went to captains Tanja Shipman and Colleen Evans, the MVP award and the Sportsmanship award respectively.

Great thanks also goes out to Heather Stover, a senior and the manager of three years. And last, but certainly not least — Thank you Mr. Barrett for the past two winning seasons.

Cross Country

This year the Cross Country team season was a good one. This was said to be attributed to the fact that they had twice as many people running than last year. They were able to beat some pretty respectable teams at the Districts meets. The boys teams placed fifth in the districts meet out of the eight teams compared to last year's seventh place. The girls were eighth at Districts, but did have two victories during their season.

The meets that stood out for them were the boys at the Georgetown Prep Invitational because the team came in fifteenth out of twenty-nine teams. Also the McClean meet in which the boys team shut out McLean by taking the first three places. The girls team meet against McLean was said to be a well struggled victory.

The teams are said to still have a way to go, but they have started a good base this year for future teams.

Indoor Track

The Boys and Girls Indoor Track Team had an impressive season this year with the girls placing sixth in districts and the boys capturing the district title for the first time ever! This season was the first winning season for the girls team in the last few years; they ended their season with a record of seven wins and four losses. Chris Benitez and Kim Ashwell were cited as outstanding members of the team. Chris broke the girls shot put record and placed second in the district in the event. Kim placed fifth in the district in the hurdles. The boys team finished the regular season 12-0 placing first in first in the district. They went on to place sixth in the regional finals and 15th in the state meet. Noted for their all around excellent performances on the boys team were Marvin Jones and Brian Braxton. Kevin Newman placed first in the district in shot put. Ernest Brunson successfully defended his third district/regional championship titles in the 55 meter dash with his time of 6.2 seconds. He is now rated second in the state and in the top six of the nation.

The team had a very successful season, and under the direction of coaches Mike Mahoney and Ruth LeDane, they should continue to perform well next year.

Varsity Wrestling

The Varsity Wrestling Team had a good season with a record of six wins and four losses. This record made them the second place team in the district. Not only did the team place second, but two of its members, A.J. Elias and Ed Steele were district champions. In addition to that, they had two regional place winners, Paul Williams who took 2nd and Ed Steele who took 5th. Paul also remained undefeated during the season and was voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates. A.J. Elias was undefeated as well and was an asset to the team. The member who improved the most was Paul Spears.

To prove their uniqueness, members of the team started a craze with the mohawk.

J.V. Wrestling

Despite the tremendous obstacle of having many first year wrestlers who were just learning the sport, the J.V. wrestling team had a successful season. The team record was 4-6 and after close matches during the finals, they had two District Champions, Dan Buckley and Drew Brown. Both these wrestlers stood out during the season with Dan holding a 6-2 record and Drew winning districts 21-17. Kevin Shaw, a freshman, was also an outstanding member of the team with a 6-1 record. According to Coach Hand, all the players did an excellent job and each match was an experience!!

Boys Varsity Basketball

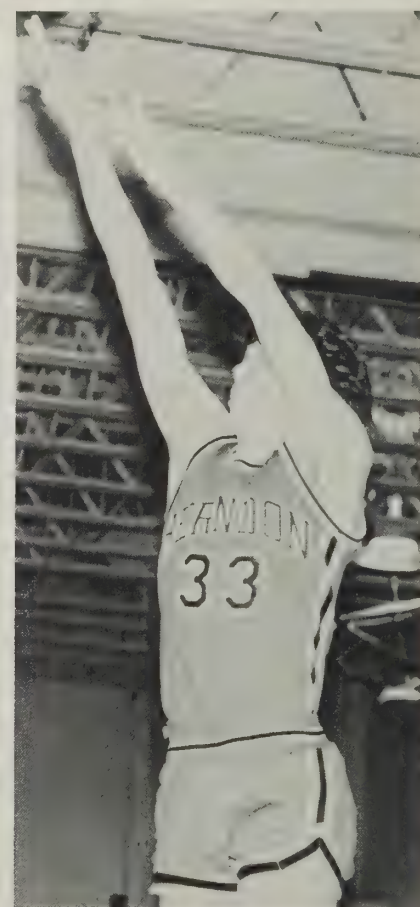

The Varsity Basketball Team completed their season this year with a record of 9 wins and 13 losses. Although this record was somewhat disappointing, the Hornets did play extremely well in some exciting games. The opening game at Oakton was one of the most evenly matched of the season, and the Hornets were victorious with a final score of 58-56. The entire team played extremely well in the District tournament match against McLean. Again, the team was victorious, winning the game 56-49.

The season started slowly for the team, and after a few disappointing games at first, The Hornets came back with enough wins to close the season on a winning note. Cited for his outstanding play throughout the season was Ronnie Tellysh.

Despite the fact that it was their first season together as a team, the Freshman basketball team had an outstanding season. Daryl Parks, Scotter Barry, and Andy Sambousy stood out on the team and were significant in attaining their final record of sixteen wins and two losses. Their excellent record proves that the team has outstanding potential for future J.V. and Varsity Teams next year.

"Hey!! Where did it go?"

The Girl's Junior Varsity Basketball team had a fair season ending with a 10-8 record. They overcame their losses in the beginning of the season to come back with a winning streak that ended the season on a favorable note.

This year was Missy Eppleman's first year as J.V. coach but she did an outstanding job, as did team captains Michelle Stewart and Debbie Hodges. With many promising Freshman on the team, J.V. should be successful next year as well.

The Herndon Girl's Varsity Basketball Team lived up to their reputation as 'Fightin Hornets'! The girls started the season with five losses, but finished with a 7-14 record. This year was a rebuilding season for the team with only two returning seniors Kim Gilmore and Isabel Cooper. Kim was also captain of the team along with Carla Greene. This was also Laura Beaver's seventh year coaching the girls Varsity team and she remains one of the best. Next year should be a more successful season for the Hornets as the majority of the team will be returning.

CLOS

In closing

to this yearbook, a few words must not pass without being said. The foremost thing is a very special good-bye to the class of '83. The class of '83 spent four long years at Herndon together studying, celebrating, and growing. Through their courses of study and the social events of the four years, the seniors matured and developed themselves. How could they avoid facing reality when the Shah of Iran was overthrown, several Americans taken hostage, a new president takes office, or an airplane crashes into the Potomac leaving five survivors? When the class of '83 came to Herndon, they had no worries. When sophomores, they found their greatest responsibility to be trying to fit into a group. It is in high school where one finds new friends and interests. The junior year had the most pressures with SAT's, college preparatory courses, and decisions. Yet everyone survived those years and made it to the senior year when all the final decisions are made. Some seniors decide to continue their education in college, some join the armed forces, and others find a job. No matter what the senior does out of high school, he is taking on the responsibilities of an adult and acting accordingly. All the things he learned in school that went to the back of his head suddenly seem relevant. The state of the economy begins to affect him directly as he earns a living, while in the past it was a worry of his parents. And the parents . . . suddenly they're not always there and the time comes to cut all the dangling apron strings. The seniors are no longer seniors; they are adults in the big world. These adults may look back on their high school years but they will never return to them. So, the time has come for them to say good-bye to friends and to set out in living the middle stage of their lives. Good-bye seniors and good luck with your future!

As the class of '83 departs, other changes take place within the school. The juniors take the seat of honor as seniors, the sophomores become upper classmen, and the freshman relinquish their title as the youngest. Some new teachers arrive while old ones depart. A new group takes over the wall near the staircase of the main intersection and new "hot cars" arrive in the back parking lot. A new newspaper staff is formed and different people produce the Yearbook. In short, the year of 82-83 was unique and the changing variables make each year after different. The 82-83 school year is over and therefore it seems appropriate to say a final farewell.

On a good day, the parking lot holds more people than cars.

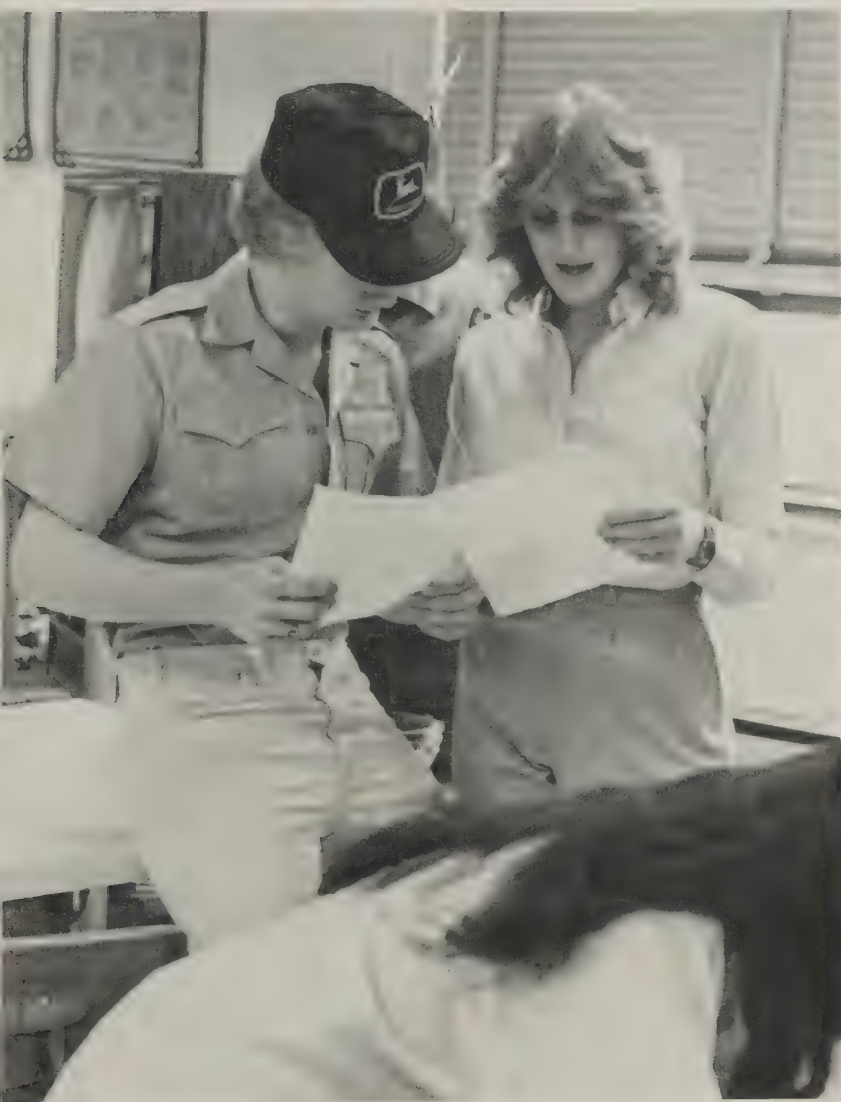

Smile, ladies!

In Fond Memory Of Tony Lovelace

William Anthony Lovelace, a Herndon senior, died of a heart attack on January 30, 1983. "Tony" was a Varsity football player who had attended Herndon since his freshman year. Born November 1, 1963 at Georgetown University Hospital, he was the eldest of three children. Tony's sister, Caren, studies at Herndon High, while his brother Kevin attends Hutchison Center.

Tony enjoyed Basketball as well as football and other sports. His favorite football player was Dallas Cowboy running back, Tony Dorsett. He also liked all kinds of animals, especially horses and dogs. He will be missed by many.

I miss you in the morning, when all the world is new
 I know the day can bring no joy because it brings not you
 I miss your hand beside my own
 the touch of your hand,
 The quick gleam in the eyes of you so sure to understand
 I miss you in the evening,
 when daylight fades away.
 I miss you, the sheltering arms of you to rest me from the day,
 I try to think I see you yet there where the firelight gleams —
 Weary at last, I sleep, and still
 I miss you in my dreams.

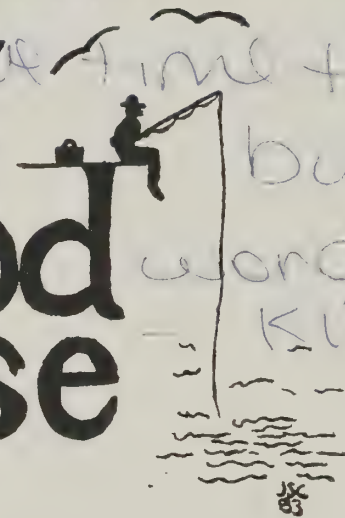

Terri dedicated this poem to me — now I'd like to share it with you in her memory.
